Entrepreneur

Why I'm an Entrepreneur?

I'm an entrepreneur because I don't want to follow paths – I want to create them.

I see problems not as obstacles, but as opportunities. I believe in building, not just dreaming.

I crave freedom, impact, and growth – not just for myself, but for the people around me.

My entrepreneurial journey started with Craftimation – a handcrafted gift brand that empowers local artists and promotes made in bangladesh souvenirs.

interEventz is my second venture, born from my love for connecting with people and ideas.*

Through InterEventz, I create experiences worth watching – events worth remembering.

As I continue this journey, my goal is clear—to support, inspire, and build a community where women entrepreneurs can grow, our traditions are respected, and new ideas can shine.
